

SITEFORUM®

Social Networking for Business

We appreciate the value of your data and we strive to protect you. Once we receive your information, we use all reasonable efforts to ensure its security on our systems. We employ current internet security methods and technologies to protect individuals' data and transactions including password protection, session cookies, SSL encryption techniques and firewalls as appropriate. We use data centre facilities in various locations to provide operational resilience and redundancy. All facilities meet the highest requirements regarding security and availability and are monitored by video and adhere to strict security procedures for access and operations.